LEGAL RESEARCH, ANALYSIS, AND WRITING II
SECTIONS 7 & 8
SPRING 2026
PROFESSORS HARRISON & BRACKMANN

---

Texts

Print Textbooks remain the same from the last semester: A Lawyer Writes (4th ed.) and The Bluebook (22d ed.). Recommended: Just Writing: Grammar, Punctuation, and Style for the Legal Writer (any ed.).

Online Texts:

- LRAW Research Spring 20256 (“LRAW Research”) at <https://guides.law.sc.edu/LRAWSpring>.
- Core Grammar for Lawyers, online subscription available at <https://coregrammarforlawyers.com/>.

Assignment for Tuesday, January 13, 2026

- Complete the Core Grammar Post Test with a score of at least 85% by Sunday, January 11, 2026, at 11:59 p.m. You may take the test as many times as necessary to achieve this score, but if you do not achieve this score by your third attempt, please email Professor Harrison by the deadline, so we may devise a plan to build on your progress.
- Read: A Lawyer Writes: Chapter 18 (Professional Emails) pages 333-54.
- TWEN: Read Demand Letters but skip the exercises.
- Prepare yourself to receive the Short Turnaround Email Memo and Demand Letter Assignment that will be due by 11:59 P.M. on Monday, January 19, 2026.
- Prepare yourself to receive the Open Trial Memo problem that we will work on throughout the semester.
- Optional: Sign up for a conference with Professor Harrison to talk about any questions you may have from last semester. See TWEN.
